

ATTEMPT TO SET FIRE TO ROYAL ACADEMY

Police Didn't Find Suffragette Placards, but Women Are Suspected.

London, May 30.—An attempt was made tonight to set fire to the Royal Academy. Although the usual votes for women placards were not found, the police suspect that militant suffragettes were responsible for the attempt to destroy the building, in which are housed some of the world's greatest works of art.

Shortly after the exhibition for the night, a watchman discovered in a small room on the ground floor, a cardboard box filled with rags and cotton saturated with oil. A number of wax tapers were bound about the box. Four of these were burning when the watchman found the box, which had been so placed that its flames from it easily would have communicated with the walls.

The suffragettes resumed their campaign of destruction tonight in the Lewisham branch postoffice, which they had attacked several times previously. They set fire to the letters in the building and the flames were extinguished only after a number had been destroyed.

Bottles containing corrosive mixtures and addressed to Reginald McKenna, home secretary, were found today in a mail box. Railway telegraph and telephone wires were cut today in various places in Wales. Suffragette literature was found scattered near the scenes of these depredations. Automobile drivers and cyclists in the Doncaster district made complaint today that trucks which punctured their tires were scattered over the highways.

SPOKE AT RAYMOND

Col. John H. Bartlett of this city was the Memorial Day orator at Raymond and his remarks were in memory of the "women on the battlefield" and he paid a striking tribute to the worth of such noble women as "Mother" Bickerdyke, "Angel" Read and the 400 or more others who braved the terrors of the rebellion as soldiers.

IN MEMORY OF THEIR DEAD

Exercises Carried Out Without a Hitch--Children Honor Victims of the Sea in Morning--U. V. U. Hold Exercises--G. A. R. Have Fine Parade in Afternoon.

A high north east wind, but clear skies, greeted the veterans for Memorial day, and while the wind was somewhat trying, it was ideal weather and with the memory of the past in their minds, the veterans were happy, even with the wind. Realizing as they do that their numbers are fast dwindling to a point where the end is in sight, they are grateful for everything which makes their one day of the year a success.

There were about forty of the veterans in line, but there were many familiar faces missing since last year. The stately figure of Dr. John Parsons, that of Captain J. Albert Sanborn and Michael Long, all prominent in the life of the G. A. R., were sadly missed, but the remaining veterans, under Commander Edwin Underhill, with heads erect proudly carried on the work left to them, and while they were small in numbers, they had the spirit of the Old Grand Army.

The program for the entire day went off without a hitch and the exercises were all very fine.

School Children's Part.
At nine o'clock the school children from the various schools marched from their respective school buildings to Pleasant street near the post office where they formed in line, as an escort for a delegation from the Grand Army and Keams-Veterans Association and the Women's Relief Corps and marched to the South mill bridge. The children presented an inspiring sight, for each one carried an American flag and all marched finely.

At the bridge the accustomed service of casting the flowers on the water in memory of the sailors who perished at sea, was carried out. This included stinging and the flag salute.

Following the service the return march was made to the postoffice where the procession disbanded, the children returning to their respective schools.

The following were the officers of the Whipple school:
Commander, C. Wesley Smith,
1st Company boys, Captain, Harold Wood, Lieutenant, Wallace deRoche-mont.

2nd company, boys, Captain, Willis Little, Lieutenant, George Bailey.
3rd company, girls, Captain, Irving Doolittle, Lieutenant, Fred Bridle.
4th company girls, Captain, Rescue Poust, Lieutenant Henry Kenney.

60 MILE GALE DRIVES SHIP ON THE ROCKS

Crew of Norwegian Ship Froia
Escape After a Thrilling Experience.

Halifax, N. S., May 30.—During a 60-mile gale on the Nova Scotia coast today the big Norwegian ship Froia was dashed to pieces on the rocks at Sunday Point, off Yarmouth, N. S., and her valuable cargo of lumber is strewn for miles along the coast. Capt. D. G. Olsen, his wife and crew escaped after a thrilling experience.

The Froia was lying in what was considered safe anchorage awaiting a part of her crew from Boston. She cleared Monday for Bahia Blanca with the largest cargo of lumber ever shipped from this port. The heavy westerly gale proved too heavy a strain for her cables, which parted, and in a short time the ship was a mass of wreckage.

When the ship began to go to pieces and she commenced to fill, boats were launched and those on board scrambled into them. Through the high seas the boats were forced toward the land, all occupants being drenched through. The boats were nearly swamped.

The Froia was a three masted iron ship and registered 1593 tons. She was built in 1872.

SOME FAST NINE.

Marine Guard at Navy Yard Doing Things on the Diamond.

One of the best baseball teams that ever represented the Portsmouth navy yard is now doing things in all other nines on the diamond. The team is made up of the marine guard of the naval prison, Southern, and yard barracks. The game of Friday against the Des Moines showed some fast ball playing, especially in the work of the battery, Bauer and Tarker. Bauer struck out 20 men and the boys from the cruiser were eating out of his hand. The team has only been formed two weeks and promises to end the season with some record. The nine has many open dates and will play any bunch of ball throwers that care to meet them. A challenge in this issue of The Herald tells the rest of the story.

VANDALISM.

Members of Storer Post, G. A.
R., Are Indignant Over the Theft of Drinking Cups.

The members of Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., are justly indignant over an act of vandalism committed at the South cemetery, by some person or persons unknown at present. As has been their custom for several years a committee from the Post placed a tub containing drinking water, together with a number of tin drinking cups, for the use of the marchers on their arrival at the cemetery. When the column arrived at the cemetery it was found that the cups had been taken by some miscreant and much discomfort resulted on the part of the marchers.

MUCH LOOT IS RECOVERED

Florence Mullen Tells Chief Hurley
Where Purrington Left Jewelry
At Kensington

Special officer Bernard McGarry of Division 10, Boston, came here on Friday and questioned Florence Paurding, alias Florence Mullen, who was arrested Thursday with Lester Purrington, alias Jack Wilson, alias Lester Barada.

The Mullen girl who blames Purrington for her predicament, charged him and other members of a gang with numerous breaks in Boston of late. Among the number was the robbery of Miss Keble's house in Vancouver street, where three revolvers, a gold watch, several rings and other jewelry was taken.

From the girl it was learned that some of the stolen property consisting of two revolvers, pair of gold earrings, four gold neck chains, and several brooches had been left with Avard Millbury an uncle of Purrington, of whom he had borrowed $5. Sheriff Spencey, officer McGarry and the girl went to Kensington and the loot was recovered.

The Boston officer brought with him a warrant for Purrington charging breaking and entering Miss Keble's house, but as Purrington had already been sentenced to one year in jail for carrying a concealed weapon, he left the Boston complaint with Sheriff Spencey.

When Purrington was arrested, a bank book showing a deposit of $3600 in the Oceanic Bank of Oceanside, Calif., in the name of Frank McPherson, was found on his person. When questioned, both he and his girl companion, said they found it in a room they occupied at a Hanover street lodging house.

THE EIGHT MONTHS' WAR IS ENDED

Rival Powers Sign the Peace Treaty in London.

London May 30.—The eight months war between Turkey and the Allied Balkan states is ended.

The peace of London was signed today in the picture gallery of St. James Palace. Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, presided over the formalities. The following peace delegates signed the preliminary treaty:

Osman Nizami Pasha for Turkey; Dr. Danoff for Bulgaria; Stepan Novakovich for Serbia; Stephanos Skouloudis for Greece, and M. Popovich for Montenegro.

The only dramatic feature of the historic occasion was M. Popovich's expression of keen disappointment that Montenegro had been despoiled of her just share of the spoils of a triumphant war and of the hope that England which took the lead in the application, would take every step to compensate Montenegro for her sacrifice.

The actual ceremony was very brief. The delegates signed the treaty with out reading it, evidently in full confidence that all the seven articles were in such wording as the powers chose to have them.

That Bulgarian delegates proposed that peace become immediately effective without ratification of the treaty. This proposal was rejected and the delegates then left after having agreed to meet June 30, to consider the advisability of an eventual annexed protocol.

EIGHT NATIONS IN ACCORD WITH PEACE PLANS

For Details of the Same.

Washington, May 30.—Secretary Bryan signalled the day commemorative of the country's hero dead, by announcing that eight nations have responded favorably to his peace plan asking that suggestions be submitted in regard to details. BASE BALL GAMES ON MEMORIAL DAY

High School Make Short Work of Alumni--One Sided Game at Playgrounds--Marines Have a Strong Team.

The high school team played a picked team from the Alumni at the playgrounds on Memorial morning and easily defeated the Alumni. The school boys pounded out seven runs in the first inning and there was nothing to it after that, the game being uninteresting.

Horan pitched a good game to the sixth when he weakened and the Alumni sent in five runs. Badger took his place and held them down for the remainder of the game. Top Timmons started to pitch but he was meat for the boys and Proctor took the box and he was not treated much better. It was excellent batting practice for the regular team. The score:

Young Tom Phelan, at present unattached to any of the Sunset teams, was the feature of the game, for he pitched for the winning team and allowed only six hits and but one run.

Young Bruce of the high school caught and the pony battery were all to the good. Sperry Locke started to pitch for the losing team and he was hit hard, his offerings being especially to the liking of Ned Paul, who clouted out three buggers and a two bagger. Hanson also was in the line light with the willow. The batting of the Stars combined with seven errors, netted 18 runs, nine of which came in the sixth. Dunsell who succeeded Locke was more effective. The score:

MARINES HAVE A GOOD TEAM

With Bauer pitching great ball, Mink's terrific batting, and the team's the holding, the Marine Corps team defeated the U. S. S. Dea Mearns 2 to 0 Friday afternoon on their grounds. The features of the game were Bauer striking out 20 men and Mink's 3 base hit to center. The Marines of the 1st and 2nd Battalions and Southern Division got together a fast, aggressive set of ball players, and are desirous of playing any team in and around Portsmouth. So far, not one of their challenges have been accepted by one of the Sunset League teams, a game with this team would give the "Leaguers" good practice. CLEVELANDS HAVE LEADING AMERICAN LEAGUE BATTERY IN FALKENBERG AND CARISCH

Cleveland, May 31. "Lanky" Fred Falkenberg of the Naps is the pitching sensation of the American league this season. It is his fine work in the box that has helped put and keep the Cleveland team near the top of the race. Falkenberg is not a youngster, but has seen many years in the big show. The long fellow always threatened to be a marvel, but never succeeded until this year. Early last season in the clubhouse following Charlie Somers' purchase of the Toledo team as a Cleveland farm club Falkenberg was

GAME CALLED ON ACCOUNT OF DARKNESS

The darkness robbed the Knights of Columbus of a victory over the River-sides on Thursday evening, for with the score tied in the fourth inning the Knights in their half of the 6th found East for three singles which combined with two passes and an error by Able, netted three runs, but it was dark and the umpires called the game on account of darkness and it went back to the fourth inning as it the game.

The weather was cold and threaten-ing and it grew dark rapidly so that it was dangerous to continue the game. The Knights played a much simpler game than usual and ran bases in little more sensible style and gave McCarra line support. As was the case last year the Knights have the best pitcher in the league and with team work they will be a big factor in the standings. McCarra was reached for three hits in the first inning which netted two runs, but after that he kept the hits well scattered.

East was hit hard by the Knights in the first inning. He was touched for three hits after two men had been retired and a single and double in the second, and every inning with the exception of the third the Knights had men on but did not get them around.

The Game in Details

FIRST INNING

The Knights were up and McCarra started the ball with a fan. Reardon hit to Caswell and was retired at first. O'Brien singled over second. McCarra followed with a single over the home plate sending O'Brien to third and both scored on Lillian's single over short. Lillian also scored, but was called trying to steal third.

Grant struck out Caswell singled past first, went to second on Pruet's single over third and they scored on Huntington's three base hit over O'Brien in left. McCarra tightened up and struck out Kincaid and Brown.

SECOND INNING

Mates was hit and walked, Kelley, fanned, Mates went to second on a passed ball and scored on Bertwistle's two base hit. Mink singled over short but Bertwistle was held at third. McCarra fanned, Pruet dropping the ball but three ran out at first.

Paul was thrown out by McCarra. Able was safe on Bertwistle's error and scored on East three base hit to center. Grant drew a pass, Caswell was thrown out at first by McCarra and Pruet fanned to Mates.

THIRD INNING

O'Brien and McCarra were thrown out at first and Lillian fanned. Huntington and Kincaid were out by the ground route to first. Brown singled stole second and went to third sent to the American association team. He had a great season in Toledo, per-feeding the fadeaway ball, which has had much to do with Christy Mathewson's success. Falkenberg was called back to Cleveland when Manager Birmingham saw how good he was, and this season he has proved to be the star not only of the Cleveland team, but of the American league. He won his first eight games in masterly style. Some credit must be given to Catcher Carisch for Falkenberg's success. The Naps' young receiver has helped steady Lanky Fred many times when it appeared he would blow up. Carisch's work behind the bat this year has been the best seen here in some time. Manager Birmingham says Carisch is the equal of any first-skip in the American league. Carisch and Falkenberg are now the leading battery of the Junior baseball organization.

FOURTH INNING

Mates singled over third. Kelley followed with a single to center. They both advanced on a passed ball. Bertwistle sent up a foul fly that Pruet caught. Mink was walked and with the bases full McCarra hit to East who forced Mates at the plate and doubled McCarra at first.

Able was thrown out by Reardon. East walked the ball for what looked like a home run but Danher declared him out for not touching first base. Grant was hit and Caswell fanned to McCarra. The score:

LAD FALLS THIRTY-FIVE FEET FROM SIDE OF CHURCH

Young Joe Abbott Climbing Spout of North Church When It Gave Way -- Now at Hospital With Broken Thigh.

Joseph Abbott, the 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abbott of Jefferson street, fell from the side of the North church, where he had climbed via the spout, and was badly injured on Friday afternoon.

The little fellow is an epileptic, and like all lads afflicted with that trouble, does queer things, and young Joe while he is a bright and gentlemanly little fellow has a mania for doing things. He was standing near the North church on the Pleasant street side, when the inspiration came to him to climb the spout. He reached it by the iron fence and he was well up on the side of the building when he was noticed by James Hennessey and James Brooks who were over on the corner of Daniel and Market streets, and they started across to call him down.

The little fellow climbed fast and he was almost to the eaves, a distance of 35 feet from the ground, when the spout pulled out from the joint, at the eaves and the unfortunate youngster lost his grip and with a startled cry fell.

The iron fence was directly below, but the little body in falling struck a corner piece, and threw him off to one side, so that he landed on the side walk. Messrs. Hennessey and Brooks reached him a few seconds after he fell and picking him up rushed him to Grace's drug store where Dr. Pender was called and made an examination. He ordered the lad to the Portsmouth hospital where he was found to have received a fractured thigh and otherwise badly bruised. It was feared internal injuries would result, but last night he was reported at the hospital to be resting comfortably.

The lad's application for admission to the epileptic ward at the New Hampshire School for feeble minded was made out by the Probation Officer last December, but this institution is so crowded that there was no available room and won't be until a new building is expected. This has been provided for by the last legislature.

MEMORIAL DAY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

Memorial Day at the Country Club brought out a large number of the members, and the golf course and tennis courts were crowded.

There was no regular tennis tournament, but the four courts were kept busy all of the day.

There was a golf tournament in the afternoon and there was a good entry.

20 starting. It was a novelty tournament, the player receiving their total number of strokes with their hand.

teap and when they used up that number of strokes, the stuck up a small sign, showing that they had finished there. The sign was worded "Here lies the golfing aspiration of the."

The winner would be the player to get the nearest hole on the eighteen holes. It was won by J. M. Washburn with a handicap of 4, who finished on holing out on the seventeenth green. F. W. Hartford, handicap 18, was second finishing on the 17 green and H. J. Robertson Jr., was third having finished on the same green. The fifteen and sixteen greens were the favorite stopping places and these greens were well decorated.

The first of the club socials was held at the club during the afternoon and evening and it was a most successful and enjoyable affair. Bridge whist was played during the afternoon and basket supper at six o'clock.

The bridge prizes were won by Miss Mary Stillaber first, Mrs. John Parlin second.

Dancing was enjoyed from 7 to 11 o'clock for which Row and Holt played, and it was a very pleasing party. Mrs. C. W. Bass and Mrs. H. J. Robertson Jr., were the hostesses.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM ACCIDENT.

The rear axle of the Port touring car of H. P. Montgomery, gave way on Greenland road, Friday afternoon and had not been running slow there would have been serious results.

Mr. Montgomery had his family with him and without warning the rear axle gave way allowing the left hind wheel to run off to one side and the machine to drop to the ground. Nobody was injured but if it had been going at a good clip, serious results would have followed.

There was an attendance which exceeded that of recent years. The monument at Goodwin Park was decorated and the exercises were then held in their hall. All of the pictures of the departed members were draped with evergreen. The regular memorial services were held followed by speaking and singing.

In the afternoon the members joined with and marched with the Grand Army in the parade.

Afternoon Parade

The big event of the day was the parade in the afternoon and it was a good one. The military escort was excellent, including two companies of sailors, a company of Coast Artillery and the local company and the different organizations.

It went off with a military precision, under the able leadership of Major David Urich, Chief Marshal.

There was an exceptionally large number of people, out, the streets being lined. The roster of the parade was:

First Division

Platoon of Police, George H. Ducker, Commanding.
Chief Marshal.
Chief of Staff and Mounted Bugler.
Mounted Aides.
U. S. Naval Band, Prof. D. N. Nunzi, Leader.
156th Co. U. S. Coast Artillery.

Memorial Day passed off very quietly, the exercises by E. G. Parker Post being the only observance of the day. The Post, accompanied by the Naval Band and escorted by the Boy Scouts, proceeded to the navy yard at 8 o'clock where they were met by a battalion of marines and a delegation of officers from the yard, continuing to the yard cemetery where the customary exercises were held and the graves decorated. Returning they were met on the bridge by the school children of the town. Here short exercises were held, including prayer and remarks by Rev. J. James Merry, and the throwing of flowers upon the water in memory of the dead comrades who rest beneath its surface. The procession then proceeded to Orchard Grove cemetery, where the following program was carried out:

Opening prayer by Rev. Arnaldo Natino.

Music by band.

Singing by school—"Kellar's American Hymn."

Reading, General Logan's Order No. 11, issued 1868, by Adj. J. H. Sweet.

Singing by male quartet, "The Vacant Chair," conducted by Ernest Bilbruck of Portsmouth.

Reading, "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address," by Webster L. Randall, scholar from Traip Academy.

Singing by children—"Decoration."

Address by Rev. A. J. Hayes.

Decoration of graves, band playing dirge.

Singing by quartet.

Salute of the dead, by firing party of marines.

Singing—"America," by public, band playing.

Benediction by Rev. Arnaldo Natino.

Taps by bugle and drum.

The column then reformed and proceeded to headquarters where it was dismissed.

Quartermaster J. H. M. Pray had charge of the wreaths and flags, the same being distributed to the various committees. Conveyance was also provided for all comrades, the larger number going in Hayes' auto bus.

Prof. and Mrs. G. H. D. L'Amoureux entertained the members of the senior and junior classes and teachers of Traip Academy on Thursday evening at their home on Love lane, about thirty being present. The announcement was made that the evening's program would take the form of an "athletic meet," and there was much wander among the students how such an event could be carried off in a house, but at the appointed time all events were run off in a way the least expected, and in a manner that caused no end of laughter. Ask a junior or senior and you will be told how. At the conclusion of the "meet" other games were played, and refreshments of huckleberry ice cream and cake served. The time passed all too quickly and those obliged to go by car had barely time to get the last one, all agreeing that Mr. and Mrs. L'Amoureux were royal entertainers.

The Epworth League of the Second Methodist church held a business meeting in the vestry on Thursday evening at the conclusion of which a social hour was enjoyed and the following program given: Piano duet, Misses Prince and Rogaskie; reading, Master Edgar Baker; vocal solo, Mrs. A. J. Hayes; reading, Mrs. Eliza Cochran; violin solo, Master Howard Paul; vocal solo, Miss Mabel Rogaskie. A shadow picture followed, games were played and light refreshments served. Home made candy was on sale. A good number were present and a pleasant evening passed.

Mrs. Jennie Stinson of Everett, Mass., was in town on Friday.

Mrs. E. H. Danforth of Newton, Mass., is at North Kittery to pass the summer with Miss Emma Gerry.

Mrs. Frederick Muller of Wentworth street was given a very pleasant surprise on Thursday evening when the other members of the Nifty Dozen Five Hundred club invaded her home, each one presenting her with some useful kitchen utensil, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Muller. Five hundred was enjoyed during the evening and refreshments of ice cream and cake served. The party left for their homes, each one wishing their hostess many happy returns of the day. Mr. and Mrs. Muller have just purchased a new home on Love lane, and will move in as soon as the house has been made ready.

Mrs. Alfred Googins of Rogers road passed the holiday with relatives in Biddeford.

AMERICAN COMMISSION AT WORK IN ITALY

Rome, Italy, May 30.—The American Commission on Agricultural Cooperation which has been in this city investigating systems of agricultural credit and co-operative production and marketing, left here today in five groups to study conditions with regard to special crops.

One of these groups, headed by Col. J. Shelby Williams and Clarence Ousley, of Ft. Worth, Texas, has gone to Egypt to study methods of financing and marketing the Egyptian cotton crop. The Egyptian sale of cotton has been accepted as the world's standard, and it is a well known fact that American cotton growers are losing large sums of money as a result of their failure to properly grade and market their cotton. It is even claimed that in the United States one half of the real value of the cotton crop is lost to the farmers through poor selling methods, and lack of financial facilities. In Egypt the Government has established the Bank of Egypt, which has done much to assist the cotton growers of that country in the important task of financing their crop. The sub-committee will secure a complete report on the work of this institution. The Egyptian methods of baling, grading and marketing their crop will be closely studied. This sub-committee will remain in Egypt until the middle of June, according to present plans. They left Rome armed with letters of introduction from the bank of Rome and other European financial institutions.

A second sub-committee left for the south of Italy and Sicily to study fruit raising and marketing methods of that section.

Three sub-committees have gone to the north of Italy, and at Florence will separate to study the three subjects of rural credit banks, land credit or mortgage institutions, and co-operative societies for producing and marketing farm products, principally the co-operative dairies of the north of Italy which have made great strides in recent years.

This division into sub-committees with itineraries arranged in the rural districts is the real beginning of the investigation of the Commission, since the sessions of the Commission in this city have necessarily been more in the nature of consultations with itineraries arranged in the rural districts. The formal entertaining which formed a part of its program during its visit to the eternal city.

Carroll Hodgkins of Bowdoin college is the guest of his parents for the week end.

POSITIVE PROOF

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Portsmouth

Because it's evidence of a Portsmouth citizen.

Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit.

The best proof. Read it: George S. Chandler, 420 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I do a great deal of walking in my work and in this way my kidneys became weakened, causing me much suffering. About three years ago I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. They cured me and I have had little trouble since. Sometimes when I overwork or do any heavy lifting, I notice lameness in my back but on such occasions, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills bring relief. I have recommended this excellent remedy to many of my friends and in every instance where it has been tried, benefit has followed. Doan's Kidney Pills can be procured at Philbrick's Drug Store and should be given a thorough trial by every kidney sufferer."

FOREST TO ASSURE PURE WATER

Secretary Houston has just approved an agreement between the Department of Agriculture and the town of Safford, Arizona, by which the Forest Service and the town will cooperate to conserve Safford's water supply, which comes principally from the Crook National Forest.

This is the latest one of many such agreements. According to the figures of the Forest Service there are nearly 1,200 cities and towns in the West which derive their water supply from lands within the National Forests. Where these cities desire it the Government joins hands with the citizens for the purpose of maintaining a permanent and pure water supply.

Stock raising, for example, or any other occupancy of the land, which ordinarily would be encouraged, would be inadvisable on a watershed which forms a source of drinking water. The Forest Service recognizes that water is as necessary a commodity for wooded hillside to supply as are saw logs or mine crops. A watershed area may offer an opportunity to furnish the greatest benefit to the largest number through supplying an unpolluted source of water for domestic purposes.

Contracts like that just made with Safford are now in force with Cascade, Colorado Springs, Durango, and Manitou in Colorado; Salt Lake in Utah; and Baker City and The Dalles in Oregon. The famous Bull Run watershed, which supplies Portland, Oregon, is on the Oregon National Forest.

The cooperative agreement in each case provides that the land may not be used without approval by the town, except for the protection and care of the forests. The Government agrees to extend and improve the forests by seeding, planting, and forest management, so far as the funds for that purpose are available. The city, for its part, assists by paying the salaries of the additional guards necessary to carry out the agreement, and contracts to bear the greater part of the cost of any improvement work which it considers immediately desirable.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET.

Queer Concoctions are Artistic Aftermath of Cubist Show—How a Drugged Egg Makes Love to the Oyster's Step Daughter—Also How a Newly Married Maine Couple Were Placarded in a Chinese Restaurant—Are Chosen for Child May Be Borrowed by Local Museums and Libraries—Persian Pageant Nets Goodly Sum for Massachusetts Babies' Benefit.

Boston, May 29.—The aftermath of cubism is already seen in the Hub show windows and on the persons of the over dressed. Cubist neckties at having a great run, around the neck of the vulgar. Caricatures of cubist pictures are shown to excite the risibilities of the multitude. In one show window is a cubist picture, whose label says that it represents a dropped egg making love to the step daughter of an oyster. Either the label is false, or the picture is not really cubist, for the absence of good cubism is utter negation of representation. Still it is mildly amusing to see a dropped egg making love; though, of course, there are things much funnier.

And speaking of vulgarly why did everybody in one of the Hub's leading Chinese restaurants laugh when a newly married couple from Maine came and sat down at one of the most conspicuous seats. It is true that the groom wore quite unconsciously the well worn coat to the effect that "We are married." Yet one wonders if eventually humanity will not tire of such cheapness. Anyway, coming from Maine, the sign would have been much funnier, and more characteristic, if it had read: "We are married, but not to each other."

Do you want an art exhibition for children, selected by children, for your local museum or public library?

Speak quickly or the opportunity may be gone. At the Boston Museum of Fine Arts there is such an exhibition, and Curator Fitzroy Carrington who arranged it believes heart and soul that after its allotted close on June 25 it should be sent on loan to other institutions. Neither is it one of those costly exhibits the insurance on which would bankrupt a good sized community. It contains only prints and other reproductive works drawn from a wide range of art history. The chief point concerning it is that ten little girls, averaging about age twelve, served as jury in selecting it. They went gravely through the pages of saying "yes" or "no" as each of a great number of works was brought to their attention. The votes were just as carefully recorded as those of any real art jury of Paris or New York. When the results were assembled it was seen that these young people had made a remarkably intelligent selection. They had taken almost nothing that was brutal or ugly. Things that were "manly" they abhorred, preferring those which told their story at a glance—on a fragment, as the French say. They did not ignore the old masters in their liking for the modern Americans. They were catholic enough in their tastes to include Albrecht Durer and Kat. Greenaway. Mr. Carrington thinks that they did better than ten average adults would or could have done. "The little exhibition thus made has created such favorable comment that the curator feels it ought to be shown in other cities before it is dispersed. Hence there is an excellent opportunity ahead of several of the New England museums, such as those of Portland, Manchester, Springfield, and Providence, and for public libraries, which have suitable exhibition rooms. Mr. Carrington, who has recently come to the Boston museum, is in charge of the print department.

Boston babies will be better off next year as a result of the overwhelming success of the Persian pageant of May 27, held on the beautiful grounds of "Wald," Brookline, in aid of the Massachusetts babies' hospital. This affair brought forth an assemblage of young and old from every part of eastern Massachusetts. The spectacle itself was minus the heralded elephants on one of which Mrs. John L. Gardner was scheduled by the yellow press to ride triumphantly. "The circus management from whom it was hoped to secure the animals would have been appreciative of the publicity thus gained, but when it developed that the event took place on the borders of a lake the probability of the stampede of the whole herd into the water suggested that it would be safer not to have them at all. Without the animals it was a dazzling display of gorgeous oriental costumes worn through a series of visits of congratulation to a Persian prince who had attained his majority. The attendance is reported to have been so satisfactory and the evidences of popular interest so many that the management of the hospital hopes to make an outdoor pageant of the kind an annual affair. The charity itself is one to which the public has every reason for responding. The hospital was founded in 1888. It has for many years been self supporting, a state subsidy having been withdrawn in 1907. Its system of wet nurses has saved the lives of thousands of babies of all social classes. Of late it has gone extensively into the work of teaching young mothers how to take care of their babies. It has a special department devoted to unmarried mothers whose children are looked after while the mothers are assisted in finding productive work. Proper marriage of the father and mother is sometimes effected in these cases. In every way the Massachusetts babies' hospital appears to be among the worthiest of the many Bostonese charitable institutions.

ETHEL ANGER.

JUDGE KIVEL BANQUETED AT CONCORD

Concord, May 30.—Men of prominence from all parts of the state were present last night at a reception and banquet tendered Judge John Kivel of Dover, recently appointed to the superior court bench by Governor Feltner. The affair took place at the Eagle Hotel, the reception taking place in the parlors. Following this formal occasion the banquet hall became the scene for all.

When dinner had reached Stephen S. Jewett of Exeter, the chairman of the evening, with a few introductory remarks called upon Gen. Frank S. Streeter, who responded to the toast, "John Kivel in College and Out."

He spoke of the strong character of the man and prophesied that at some future day Judge Kivel would be a still greater honor to the state. However he did not fail to mention his predecessor, the late Judge John M. Mitchell, who was, as he said, a close friend of Judge Kivel. Leslie Snow of Rochester spoke on, "John Kivel as a Lawyer and Citizen," in place of John W. Kelley, who was unable to be present, and Cyrus H. Little on "Ten Years in Office with John Kivel."

The toastmaster called on Judge Robert J. Pike, who spoke for the superior court, and Chief Justice Frank N. Parsons, who represented the supreme bench. Governor Feltner also spoke a few words.

The committee on the banquet consisted of Stephen S. Jewett, Frank S. Streeter, Daniel J. Daley, Hosea W. Parker, Jesse M. Barton, George H. Moses, Henry W. Keyes, Merrill Shortell, James W. Remick, Edwin G. Bastiman, P. H. Sullivan, Harry J. Brown, Arthur G. Whittemore, John W. Kelley, Edwin F. Jones, William H. Sawyer, Joseph Madden, William M. Chase, John B. Jameson, Cyrus H. Little, DeWitt C. Howe, John E. Nash, Oliver T. Branch and John H. Allen.

SENT BACK IN SPECIAL TRAIN

The travel was so heavy on the Boston and Maine railroad Thursday evening that it resulted in two special trains out of this city. The 5:20 train in here was fifteen minutes late and on it were fifteen passengers for Manchester. The Manchester train had gone, so a car was attached to the special freight which leaves here at six o'clock and it made good time into Manchester.

The Pullman due here at 9:15 had nineteen cars and when it stopped in Newburyport the rear cars were way out in the tunnel. The passengers in these cars did not hurry, in fact thought they were waiting outside of the city, and the train continued on to this city. There were about fifteen passengers carried through so a special train was made up with the Dover crew and they were taken back to Newburyport.

the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge on Friday. It had been burning but a short time and a few buckets at Three hundred mechanics of the Boston & Maine repair shops will be sent to the new shops at Belleville.

It is now anticipated that the open-until perhaps August 1, although it was originally expected the work could be started July 1. The arrivals of skilled workers will be delayed a short time in consequence.

The 300 men from Concord are understand to constitute what will be known as the night force at the shops.

SPECIAL EXAMINATION.

Owing to the difficulty in securing applicants for the position of male stenographer and typewriter at the Portsmouth navy yard at salaries varying from $2.45 to $3.04 per diem, a special examination for male stenographer and typewriter will be held in the postoffice building at Portsmouth on Saturday, June 14, 1913.

It is expected that appointment will immediately follow, at $3.04 per diem.

Applicants must be at least eighteen years of age on date of examination, and citizens of the United States. The required application form may be secured from the local secretary, postoffice, Portsmouth, N. H., or the district secretary, postoffice, Boston, Mass., and must be filed with the latter on or before June 9.

LOTS OF EXCITEMENT.

Water Wagon Has Narrow Escape—Manhole Plates Blow Up.

There was quite a breeze of excitement this forenoon on Vaughan and Congress streets as the manhole covers of the telephone conduits took a sudden ascension.

The plates weighing 100 pounds or more opened up with a loud noise and went nearly twenty feet in the air. Window glass in a nearby house on Vaughan street was smashed and then flew in all directions, people passing along near the Freeman block were frightened by the explosion. The street sprinkler had just passed over the manhole on Vaughan street as the cover lifted. A half second sooner and the spraying apparatus of this cold water chariot would have been put out of commission. Gas is said to have caused all the disturbance.

AN EXPENSIVE DRINK.

Gloucester Man Gives Stranger $20 to Get Him a Pint.

There is one person who will have occasion to remember Memorial Day of 1913 and that drinks come very high in this city. A young man claiming Gloucester as his home, reported to Officer West on Friday evening that he had given a stranger a $20 bill to get him a pint of whiskey, but the messenger had failed to return with either the liquid or the change. The erstwhile messenger was not located and the young man is sadder and perhaps wiser today.
